Canadian Income Survey (CIS) 2018-2023. Data on food insecurity for CIS are collected in the year following the survey reference year. We've chosen to label the data using the year of data collection to better reflect the timing of experiences captured.

Statistics Canada publishes territorial statistics from CIS separately from provincial statistics. Some territorial statistics have been published in articles in Statistics Canada's The Daily, but the public data tables used for this graph currently does not include the territories.
