Supporting All Women

As part of our commitment, Shoppers Foundation for Women's Health™ recognizes that the term "women's health" is understood in a variety of ways. Our work goes beyond the sex and gender binary, welcoming the experiences of all women and gender-diverse people.

21 Who we help

There's a health gap in Canada and women are falling through it.
At Shoppers Foundation
for Women's Health™, we're working to change that.

Shoppers Foundation for Women's Health™ aims to address the health disparities women face. Whether it's lack of representation and inclusion in research, barriers to accessing mental health care, or the urgent health consequences women disproportionately face due to poverty and domestic violence – our commitments are focused on improving access to care and increasing awareness of women's unique health needs.

It's time to make women's health visible. And throughout 2023 we invested in strategic partnerships aimed at system change initiatives, community grants that support local charitable programs, and campaigns like Run for Women and Giving Shelter, all with the goal to help ensure more access and improved health outcomes for women in Canada.

We're incredibly grateful to our network of generous supporters, including Shoppers Drug Mart® Associates-Owners and store teams, colleagues, vendors and millions of customers whose commitment to supporting women's health is making a real difference in our communities.

Thanks to you, we're helping to create a future where care is equitable and accessible so that all women in Canada can lead healthier lives.

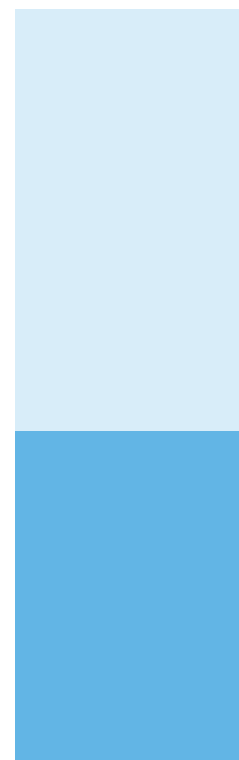

Jeff Leger
Chair of the Board

It's time to make women's health visible.

Working with a network of more than 370 community partners, we're investing $50M by 2026 to improve access to care, increase awareness of women's unique health needs, and support critical women's health research and innovation.

$50M
2026 Goal

Thanks to the generosity of our donors and supporters in the last two years, we've invested more than $22M to address the health inequities women face.

Giving Shelter

Every fall, the Giving Shelter campaign unites all Shoppers Drug Mart® and Pharmaprix^{MD} stores in an effort to raise funds and awareness for women's shelters across Canada.

Thanks to the generosity of customers and donors, in 2023 we raised and contributed $2.1M to support 320 local women's shelters and partners. 100% of donations raised in-store stay in the local community, helping shelter partners provide thousands of women and their families access to care and support.

"Violence against women (VAW) and intimate partner violence (psychological, physical, or sexual) increased during the pandemic and has not slowed as the pandemic has eased. Pre-pandemic, one woman was killed by a current or former intimate partner every six days. That number is now every five days. Femicides are but the tip of the violence iceberg. We thank you for supporting this lifesaving cause. Shoppers Foundation for Women's Health™ helps Women's Shelters Canada provide key supports to the shelters who work tirelessly to keep women and children safe."

Giving Shelter

Shenaz gives from the heart

The following story was featured on the Shoppers Drug Mart® company intranet and loblaw.ca to highlight the efforts of Shoppers Drug Mart® store teams and to encourage other employees to get involved.

"It's a dark topic, but it needs to be talked about." Shenaz Singh is referring to violence against women, which is a much more prevalent problem than many people realize. In fact, more than four in ten women in Canada have experienced some form of intimate partner violence in their lifetime.

Shenaz is an Associate-Owner of three Shoppers Drug Mart® stores in Chilliwack, Abbotsford and Port Moody, B.C. She has been with the business for close to 20 years and has always been a proud supporter of Shoppers' philanthropic efforts. But the Shoppers Foundation for Women's Health™ Giving Shelter campaign, which supports women's shelters, is a program that hits particularly close to home for Shenaz.

In July of last year, one of Shenaz's former employees, Amber Culley, was tragically murdered by her ex-partner who she had filed multiple assault charges against. He was due in court the same day she was murdered.

"Amber was only with our team for a short time, but she made such a positive impact," says Shenaz. Amber worked in the post office at Shenaz's Chilliwack store but had also been part of the Beauty team at another Shoppers Drug Mart® store for ten years.

"It was a difficult time for the entire store team," says Shenaz. "But our Human Resources Business Partner at the time, Dayna Chambers, brought in trauma counsellors and other supports to help us process our grief. Our VP of Ops, John Rudzitis, also set up a fundraiser for Amber's children."

From this tragedy came a strong desire in Shenaz to help other women like Amber escape violence. "These types of stories are too common," says Shenaz, who also knows several regular customers who were victims of abuse. "We need to rally together and do what we can for our teams, our customers and our communities."

Shenaz's passion for the cause has been infectious to her store teams, motivating them to get creative with their fundraising efforts. The teams have hosted everything from pub nights and bowling events to ceramic painting parties and spin classes. They have also approached local businesses and vendors to donate. Last year, the teams raised just over $15,000 combined – double their initial target. They are planning to raise the bar even higher this year and do "everything [they] can possibly think of to raise money," says Shenaz.

Shenaz encourages store teams and colleagues to do their part to show their support – whether that be through fundraising activities, personal donations or spreading the word within their network.

"Little drops of water make the mighty ocean," she says. "We may think our contributions are small, but together we can have a tremendous impact."

Menstrual Equity

1 in 5 menstruators struggles to afford menstrual products.

The pandemic and economic downturn have exacerbated inequities for women's health – leaving one in four Canadian women having to choose between menstrual products and meals.

Shoppers Foundation for Women's Health™ is taking action to address menstrual equity by improving access to menstrual products and supporting education programs that aim to destigmatize menstruation. We're proud to work with a growing network of partners including Moon Time Sisters, The Period Purse, Alberta Council of Women's Shelters, BC Society of Transition Houses and more.

The Shoppers Drug Mart® Run for Women is the largest event series in Canada dedicated to women's mental health. It occurs annually in the spring and includes 5k and 10k run/walk events in 18 different communities across Canada. Since its inception, we have raised more than $20M for local mental health charities that are improving access to mental health care and support for Canadian women.

"Our mission at CMHA Waterloo Wellington is to build a community where everyone has what they need to live meaningful lives. Healthy women are key to healthy communities, and they need our continued support. Every dollar raised through the Shoppers Drug Mart® Run for Women is providing more than 9,700 women in our community with the access to mental health services they need and deserve. Together we are changing and saving lives."

Run for Women

Making an impact in local communities.

“Funds raised from the Run for Women will go to support the Little Courageous Daycare. The centre not only helps women but also supports their children who have seen far too much when they are far too young. This will be the first trauma daycare in New Brunswick. With more than nine children living at the Centre, they need our help now more than ever. We are proud to be here to support this work.”

Building relationships to make a change.

Shoppers Foundation for Women's Health™ is proud to work with leading, national charitable organizations to support initiatives that are driving change by addressing the long standing, entrenched problems that negatively impact women's health.

Canadian Women's Foundation

"Gender-based violence is a crisis that touches everyone. With the support from Shoppers Foundation for Women's Health™, the Canadian Women's Foundation helps diverse women and Two Spirit, trans, and non-binary people break free from violence and the economic barriers that put them in a vulnerable position. It helps us advocate for change to advance safety and gender equality and justice across Canada."

Canadian Women's Foundation

Women's Health Collective Canada

"Women's Health Collective Canada (WHCC) is the first initiative of its kind designed to build a national movement to close the gap in funding for women's health research. With the tremendous support of Shoppers Foundation for Women's Health™, we are investing in ground-breaking health research and healthcare practices designed for, and by, women to make women's health a priority."
