

Fondation Pharmaprix pour la sante des femmes™ invests $1.75M in support of 27 community partners across Canada

Community Grants support organizations addressing women's health equity through awareness initiatives and improved access to care.

Working with charitable partners across Canada, Shoppers Foundation for Women's Health™ is pleased to announce $1.75 million in commitments to support innovative, local community-led initiatives.

The Foundation's Community Grants Program invites applications from Canadian registered charities working to foster health equity by addressing areas where women face greater health disparities. It supports local charitable programs, research, and innovation initiatives designed to help improve the state of women's health, care, and health outcomes.

The organizations supported by these grants work across the women's health landscape addressing areas including poverty, gender-based violence, women's unique health needs and menstrual equity. Working together with these grant recipients, the Foundation is committed to making care more equitable and accessible so that all women in Canada can lead healthier lives.
